

Consult on Wyrmsworks Publishing Products

April 4, 2023

We're committed to creating resources that accurately and respectfully represent individuals with disabilities, neurodiversity, and mental illnesses, and we're excited to invite our email subscribers to work with us as consultants. Your experiences and expertise are invaluable in helping us create products that truly reflect the real-world experiences of those with disabilities, neurodiversity, and mental illnesses.

We will respect your privacy and keep all shared information confidential.

Please fill out the form below to apply to be a consultant on one of our upcoming projects.
