

Free5e Kickstarter Launch Update – New Launch Date: March 25

March 3, 2025

Update: March 17, 2025: Due to unexpected prototype material shipping delays, we need to push this back another week.

We've got a slight change of plans regarding the launch of our Kickstarter campaign for Free5e! Instead of launching on March 4, we're pushing back the date to March 25.

Why the delay?

We're waiting on some key supplies that are essential for fulfilling our backer rewards. We want to ensure that everything is perfectly in place before we open the campaign. This includes running test production so that we can be confident in the quality of the products we're offering. By getting actual samples in hand before the campaign starts, we'll be able to show our backers exactly what you're getting.

We will make every reward in-house after the campaign, and we will personally check every item for quality before it gets delivered. We want to be 100% confident that the rewards we send out are the high-quality, lasting keepsakes you deserve.

We're all about making these rewards something special—a reminder of when the hobby started to change for the better and that you helped make it happen. Free5e isn't just a game; it's a movement toward accessibility and inclusion for every player, and we want our backers to feel proud of supporting this vision for years to come.

We know you're as excited as we are, and we're committed to delivering rewards that reflect the importance of this project. Thank you for your patience and understanding. We're making sure these rewards are something you'll cherish for generations to come.

Mark your calendars or follow the project! The new launch date is March 25, and we can't wait to share everything with you.

Thank you for your incredible support!
