Disability Questions for Players

July 8, 2022

(This chart can be given to players before starting a campaign in Session Zero or when discussing implementing these mechanics mid-campaign.)

We will be using disabled characters in this RPG, just as you meet them in real life. We all experience this differently. Maybe you personally experience some. Maybe a loved one has or had a disability. Maybe some of these, as a result, will cause painful memories.

We want you to have fun.

What disabilities will take the fun out of the game for you? Think about what you're ok with in player characters (PCs) that you'll play with every time. Think about what you're ok with in non-player characters (NPCs) that you meet sometimes. Talk about specifics with the game master (GM). Ask if you don't understand a term. You can change your mind at any time in the future. This list is not exhaustive, just broad categories that are often difficult for people to encounter. Feel free to list others below.
